

COMMUNITY-BASED LEARNING SPRING 2022 CBL TALK

Providing University students with information and insights into major challenges and opportunities facing the Scranton area and how they can be part of positive change. Live session with Q&A during the spring semester and recorded to serve as a resource for CBL courses.

Youth in Scranton

with Mina Ardestani, McNichols Elementary Plaza and Maureen Maher-Gray, NEPA Youth Shelter

Wednesday, February 16 @ 7 PM

This CBL Talk will feature community leaders from the Scranton School District and NEPA Youth Shelter who work with K-12 youth in the local area. They will discuss the programs they run and the challenges, hopes and dreams of the youth they encounter along the way. This talk will align with the Jesuit universal apostolic preference "Journey with Youth" in which Superior General, Fr. Arturo Sosa, S.J., has called on all of us to "accompany young people in the creation of a hope-filled future".

Mina M. Ardestani

Principal, McNichols Plaza Elementary
Founder, Presence from Prison

Maureen Maher-Gray

Executive Director & Founder
NEPA Youth Shelter

Register at:
<https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/ScrantonYouth2022>

Questions?
Email: community@scranton.edu

For More Information Visit: www.scranton.edu/CBLtalks

Sponsored by the Office of Community-Based Learning in collaboration with the Office of Community Relations, the Center for Service and Social Justice, and the Jesuit Center

Save the Date - CBL Walk: West Scranton

Friday, April 22 @ 3 pm

visit www.scranton.edu/CBLtalks for more information