Paul Browne '78 has recently had his book "The Coal Barons Played Cuban Giants: A History of Early Professional Baseball in Pennsylvania, 1886 -1896" published by McFarland & Company, Inc., Publishers.

The Pennsylvania state leagues of the 1880s and 1890s rank among the most interesting minor leagues in the history of baseball. The rules were changing, the world around baseball, and the players were exciting.

These leagues had not only black players but also wholly black teams. They had great major leaguers--on their way up but also on the way back down. In fact, the greatest player of the season. The play was exciting, the players were exciting and the owners, managers and league politics were often more interesting than the games.

Cities with teams in these leagues included Allentown, Altoona, Carbondale, Danville, Easton, Harrisburg, Hazleton, Lancaster, Mahanoy City, Mount Carmel, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, and Scranton.
