
St. Ignatius challenged individuals to “Go forth and set the world on fire.” The FIRE program at The University of Scranton is a collaboration between the Office of Residence Life and the Center for Student Engagement that offers students a unique opportunity to accept St. Ignatius’ challenge.

What is FIRE?

FIRE is a living-learning community that will encourage first year students to discover and achieve their potential. FIRE participants will work with their peers and various members of the University community to foster leadership development, academic success, and personal excellence.

Leadership Development
FIRE will encourage students to develop their leadership capabilities by engaging in the University Community through participation in campus activities, mentorship programs and student organizations.

Academic Success
FIRE will promote personal excellence by providing activities for students to explore goal setting, balance, communication and self awareness.

Personal Excellence
FIRE will support students’ academic success by providing intentional and meaningful programs involving academic resources and support services.

Student Opportunities as a Participant in FIRE:

- Student Organization Fair
- Scranton Emerging Leaders—8 week course
- Ignite—Royal Leadership Conference
- Leadership Speaker series
- Upperclass mentoring
- Linked Freshman Seminar Class
- FIRE Counsel
